

WOLMER WOOD,

MARLOW COMMON,

MARLOW, BUCKS.

May 25th 1926.

my dear friend

I am very sorry but I find I cannot get to town for a night this week — if I do come up it will only be for a few hours tomorrow of Tuesday night next week — June 1st — will be all right for you I will keep it free so that I can come to you then.

I hope you had a good time in Scotland and had good weather; we had a heavy thunderstorm here on Sunday but yesterday was really fine and warm. The Kendricks came to us for Whit Sunday and have, I think, enjoyed themselves.

The portrait, I hope, is developing as you wish it to. I am inclined to prophesy that it is going to be one of your greater successes; it has already great dignity and vigorous character and your whole scheme of it is admirable So I believe it will add to your reputation. You have a special faculty for rising to important occasions.

Are you

always yours

A. L. Baldry
