MARLOW, BUCKS.

Sept. 23rd 1917.

My dear Mrs de Laszlo

I cannot tell you how sorry I was to see in today's "Observer" such a piece of bad news about Mrs de Laszlo. It does seem the worst of bad luck that such a thing should have happened and I can imagine what a worry and anxiety it must be to you all. Please tell him how much I sympathise with him in his trouble and that I hope sincerely he will be successful in his appeal.

My wife is away for a few days but I know she will be as sorry as I am to hear that you are having so distressing an experience.

Sincerely yours

A. L. Baldry
