Although Mr. Philip A. de Laszlo, the eminent portrait painter, who is to visit the Autumn Exhibition to-morrow, was born in Buda Pesth, he is a naturalised British subject, and married to an Irish lady. He studied his art under great Continental masters, and twice in succession was awarded the gold medal at the Paris Salon. Many other awards have come to him, and among his sitters have been members of our Royal Family, and leading representative men and women of British, American, and Continental society. He holds numerous orders and decorations, and has been honoured by some of the leading art societies of the world.
