Dear Mr. de Laszlo,

I am sure you will forgive me for troubling you over a little matter which is bothering me.

We did some work for Sir Robert Gresley over a year ago, and it entailed certain out of pocket expenses to us. We did not make our usual charges for the work entailed, thinking that this would not be pleasing to you. We have sent in our accounts quarterly for the amount due to us, and have written to Sir Robert on several occasions, but he has entirely ignored us.

Before taking the usual action for the recovery of the amount that he owes us, I would like to ask you whether you have any objection to our taking this course, for if he is a special friend of yours, we would not think of doing so: nevertheless, we think that we have been treated very discourteously by Sir Robert.

I am hoping to hear from you before long as to whether you have come to any decision about your next Exhibition.

With kind regards,
Yours very truly,

H. P. Wallis
