

23rd June, 1924.

Dear Mr. de László,

I looked in at your exhibition this afternoon, and was sorry not to meet you there. I thought the pictures looked extremely well, especially the Pope, now that he has been framed and varnished. I am sure you will have a great success.

The Editor of our Illustrated Page thinks that it might be interesting to reproduce one or two of the other pictures as well as that of the Pope, and proposes to look at them to-morrow. I wonder whether you would be kind enough to let him have photographs of those which he may fancy for this purpose? In any case, I have asked him to ring you up on the chance.

Believe me,
Yours sincerely,

J. Walter
