Paul deardest. I must reply at once to your letter & Dads, which I rec'd on my return thro Mrs to my hotel. As you know by my letter to Stef, the Deverports are here. I spent a v pleasant time with them today driving out to the 'Locomical' that huge Monastery & Cathedral, built by Philip II - we had an excellent guide - a creepy

Hope you have better weather now at Oxford. Have it cold here now.

and here place it all is, tho' v. fine in some parts architecturally - Derry was full of talk & intelligence, & I talked with him, in considering those offerings of splendour to save your soul - He hates the Catholic Religion - & indeed you see, ~~the~~ looking at the man & woman in the street, how crushed their spirit is - & walking amongst them generally a heart, are seen their Priests - such faces as they have, quite horrors!

But it was ^{III}all v. interesting historically, & Devy & I were setting on Charleses & Philipps into the right order.
Charles I of Spain &
V of Germany a Roman Empire! How it w^d interest you, all these living monuments of the work you've been thro' —

Tomorrow dear Dicks arrives — I shall meet him in the mg. something ^{IV}after 8 his train arrived —

Dear, yr letter was so interesting — & especially that you s^d about the speech of the Secretary of the old Roman Society — It must have been he, at whose house yr & Pat^r names were entered — & he wrote us, that in view of that had happened he had to cross out yr names!! I'll tell you more about it when we meet — But he was one of those who followed the crowd — & I'm glad now he has seen you in the few position you were in at Etta - Truth Conquerors - -

Give it time -

I had a nice letter from

Henry before I left home in which he expresses a sincere wish for Japan's success - I am glad he is realising the heart he has given me in his forthright action - & the self-mental position he has placed himself in kō-atō her & her people -

This latter position ^{II} may not get of I have accused ~~him~~ him - But bitterly as I have felt his action, & still do, I am thankful he has made this effort in the direction to conciliation with me - Let us hope the future will at least things happily ^{all round} she has most to answer for, her influence has been shocking - Dear Pauly, Don't exasperate your work, & do get those pills made up, since they helped you altho' I hate drugs. Sleep is the best Dr - I assure you Give dear Harry my love - I hope the drinks ^{early} then the at No. 3 - Take some 2055 - P
