Dear Mr. Laszlo.

We were very pleased with our visit to your studio and the opportunity to make your acquaintance.
Lady Albenale is much looking forward to having her
portrait painted
by you. I had no opportunity to talk
"business" with you but you will allow me to say that when I originally looked to you we had

BUCKINGHAM GATE

the intention of asking for a portrait of the same size as that of W^m Cator. I rather think that you are now
proposing to paint
a larger picture and I am afraid I must adhere to my original
decision as the larger picture would involve a greater expenditure. It would

Be very kind of you
if you would tell me
the price for one
Such as Mr. Catron's.
Ludie Albemarle
hopes to keep her appointment with you on Saturday morning.

And in your hands I have no fear of the result. yours truly Albemarle.

I think I ought to tell you that Lady Albemarle is looking very tired

now after all she has gone through in the last few weeks with her father's death
and you will find that as a sister she feels fairly fatigued
when her expression quite alters. When you see she is tired it would be advisable to leave off for the day - A
