head Irish girls are such fun, said the other day he did not find us stiff, but easy like Americans, which he added was meant for a compliment. We were introduced to one or 2 other men by the Wienerinnen nothing particular. Of course we did not really have enjoyed the piece so much except for him — Friday Evening the Hungarian Verein fancy ball came off. D.V.Q. was very anxious for us to go, but you could only get admittance through a member of this Verein Frau Wolf who is one, very kindly offered to take us & also sent D.V.Q. an invitation. At Breakfast that morning D.V.Q. just as he was leaving the room came & asked wd. we allow him to send us in some flowers! Of course we accepted. At dinner Mothers & your letters arrived telling the sad

30 Theresien Strasse
Munich. Tuesday. 1 March 92.

My dearest Grizzi —

I must get myself out by writing to you dearest. Oh! I have such a lot to tell you & you have been such a darling writing so often. I really hardly know how to begin, for I have been carrying the day before us in a most unaccountable & surprising fashion. I feel in such an unsettled excited condition. I suppose it really only is the rebellion of being appreciated. I must go back to the beginning of our fun — Last Tuesday was the day of the dance in the theatre. We wore black. I think we bought flowers & both looked very nice. I think I may venture to say we were the most distingué looking in the room, people stared — the place was crowded. A large contingency went from here, we kept together & on with a Frau Wolf & her three good natured Freundes. Dr Evans thought in reality looked after us all the evening. I must tell you he sits down at the opposite end of the table to ours. I had spoken a little to him the previous Sunday & only took to him moderately. This evening however he did show up well, & I have quite retched his appearance. A great look of Hare, same coloring, rather big nose, reddish closely cut beard, sparkling tawny eyes. He comes from Montreal, has taken his degree & his making further studies on this side the water, his manner is just what I wld fancy an American's to be, lively, energetic, a great deal of tact & savoir faire, age really 24 altho' you would take him to be 3 or 4 years older, as he says himself he has had the experience of a man of 30. Well he decided his attentions between Eva & me all the evg. I got in for 2 delightful dances, at least as enjoyable as they could be in such a crowd. Did the American Polka (Montreal) with him, I sometimes expected to see Tschudi's face popping up before me! We three sat out several dances together in the first evg, when we got through most interesting conversation, the independance & higher education of American girls, Drummond, whom he had met & heard deliver his Lecture on Love etc. He got quite lost in this latter subject I fancy, we found a kindred spirit ever since he has got on splendidly together with both of us. Eva he had always dressed in a most becomming costume as Republicaner - She introduced me, I liked his look at once, he did not seem to notice me much - went off immediately. Must stop now dearest it is ¼ to 12 &C I am so sorry for you & Molly being in for such a dull time of it. If you were here how your spirits would rise, this is the day Ethel starts, how dreary for you we are having such a splendid time of it here - "Night, night" God Jane my love!

Wednesday afternoon

I shall go on at once with the dance - At the Suppatable we all met Frau Wolf, niece, Dr Evans, Lizzie (the Hungarian) & 2 friends of his, Herr Liebel (a German, not much) & a Herr von Krahl (a Hungarian) very nice looking. There was plenty of fun & talk

News about Aunt Sue - of course a great blow to us altho' not quite unexpected. Well we were very both about the prospect of going to dance, on top of it all, but on weighing pros & cons thought it better to go, on account of our staying away making so many other unpleasant cases - D[r] E who I doubt would have gone but for us, had spent 10/ on his ticket, besides having accepted the flowers it would have been so awkward to have knocked everything on the head. And we alone been engaged we should not have gone, but as it was we did, & I know did I enjoy a dance as that one!

Our dresses were the same as before, Eva's flowers white yellow daisies, mine Lilly of Valley, Showers Sträussches We arrived in good time before 8 - at the Bayerischen Hof (Hotel) A good many were there, we noticed one big man in the Cadcrobe got up as Mephistopholis whom he afterwards (found) to be one of the celebrated Malers — (& danced with Eva) the place was filled with Malers. Defregger was there but we did not see him. Everyone nearly in fancy costumes. There was a procession & Speechifying which lasted about an hour before dancing began.

During this time we were all sitting in a row Eva had Dr Evans next to her & with the exception of the 1st dance which he had with me, he was the whole of the 1st part of evg. till Supper with Eva making me feel frightfully jalouse as he was rather more my friend than hers till then.
After my first dance I seated myself next the Weinerin fully Eva was in for the good time thing evg. as I had had the best of it the other night. A few dances went by, people now & again staring, I feeling somewhat disconsolate, when I saw a mans eyes fixed on me, a good looking fellow, a trifle common — pursuing my stare is before making his bow & requesting my (name) I (knew) I went, danced that Polka through, (which by the way was an old friend) I talked a few words with my partner, found him uninteresting rather & then he brought me back. ~~I was then etc~~ Presently another man came up, rather particular & we danced Francaise together. While sitting during this part of evg a friend of Frau Wolf's came up a dark — with fiery eyed Hungarian, all the Southerners flocked to our standard, they seem to love the fair complexion a Spanian presented Eva with flowers too. We were not home till after 5. I did enjoy it so, especially L. his whistling was too delicious he has written to Bida Bert for Uncle Ans for me — On Tuesday we were all sitting here when a Card arrived from Loszlo asking might he come to pay us a visit that day at 5. We dressed ourselves against the hour, having given the servant instructions to show any Gentleman that came into the Drawing room — We were ready sitting in here when a knock comes to the door, the next minute me Loszlo in the flesh of it looking Charming, I was longing for him to ask me for a dance & so he did. The second time he came up & we had finished dancing I said something about Hungarian Music & he at once said he would whistle me some which he did most beautifully. I saw he took to me, he had such a way of staring, & then in the end he said, "Wissen Sie das blonde, grosse, Vornehme das sieht mich an, Gnade mein wie so entzogen gefallt, das ruhige Vornehme gefallt mir grade, weil ich so lebhaft & fleinig bin!" he has a great admiration for "das Vornehme" the Dutch he says are Schick, aber die Amerikaner Vornehm.

I forgot to mention he also is an artiste, got 1st prize at an exhibition in Wien — he asked me to come & see his Studio & Eva & I finally arranged with him that he should call for us here & take us there & Lenbachs Studio & then his own at the Academie on Wednesday. The rest of my partners dance sat & 2nd part of evg. were Dr Lewis with whom I sat out 1 or 2 dances talking; after which we came & stood at the door — there was a table quite close full of little bouquets which the gentlemen were busy & giving to their ladies. What was my surprise when my first partner introduced partner came up & presented me with one! A minute after, I was still standing with Dr L. a very fine dark man came up & begged me for Francaise. He was a very nice fellow also an Artist, Russian asked me did I know the Duchess of Edinboro' that he had painted Princess Victoria & Mary — Afterwards Laszlo (pronounced Lassloo) came up to me with a bouquet & took me off for another dance — he is a charming little fellow, a regular Hungarian in appearance & manner, evidently of good fair Vornehme people — he was delighted at the idea of our coming to his Studio. Eva & I were so amused the way

They all 3 brought us home. I can hardly write for many are talking so - Now all I have told you, you will gather what a good time we are having, & I am enjoying it so, but continually with a kind of feeling that I ought not to be enjoying myself so much. It is so strange for us to be here alone, & one really can't help wondering is it supposed one goes out with those men. I almost think if we did not we could get no fun at all, you must either go in for it all or have none at all - & the people here don't look on it as being strange for us - We conclude it is all right & Dr Krahl are & would be considered pretty at home - they are quite different to the bürgerlichen Germans - they are both looked

+ See Dozzle standing just about to come in !! I jumped up & brought him into the drawing room - he was so put out at having gone to our bedroom asked us how we enjoy, those stupid servants. He was very fresh black frock coat, clean collar & cuffs, fancy breaks. He was not so excitable as on the other days. He stayed an hour & in the end said the time had passed so quickly. We changed the day on which he was to show us the Studios to Tuesday (yesterday) - he & his friend Lebel, who he said was anxious to come too, might be there settled should call for us at 1/4 before 2. Accordingly they arrived à l'heure fixe, we had to leave before dinner was over - Our first place was Lenbach - a most beautiful set of rooms & Studio - It was most interesting hearing L's remarks - we then went to his own Studio & he got so excited showing us his pictures, that he is going to send to Chicago Ex. & ended up with tethering our photos!! We then walked through the Streets where Carnaval celebrating was going on to see the fun making a detour before finishing up with Coffee at Cafe Leutpold which is quite the thing to do here - I Lad L. all the time Ein Lebel. L. was so nice & amusing, he is so like a child, of course there was a good deal of nonsense & paying of Compliments in his conversation, he promises to go through Dublin & to Chicago next year when he will come & see us. At Cafe Leutpold Sitting at another table was Herr v. Krahl also a Künstler I mentioned him before - He joined us, the talk was animated & interesting I Lad said I was going back to Brussels to get lessons from Verlat - then they set two at me, why I did not get lessons here that when Verlat comes to Munich on the 9th they wld fight him & break his arms so that we should have to stay here!! did you ever hear such nonsense? Von Krahl asked us to come to his Atelier on Sunday I am also to bring my fiddle L. persists on hearing me play on as lights here — Eva & Mays talk has rubbed me up so much my ideas refuse to flow —

If it is any use of Mary staying in London, how lonely you will be. Where do you sleep? Lightfoot is evidently a success & also Beethoven. Have you been singing? how extraordinary it seems that they have not yet become settled at home. We are indeed to be envied. I intend making the most of my time, as I suppose this trip means a years hermitage for me [illegible] I can write no more Good-night dearest Ever your loving
L. M. Jeanneret.

Your Bene sends much love & thanks for birthday letter — I wish

Miss Jerrold's Ed: he having done of our pieces – had almost put out of our minds with having too much yesterday by Dr Ro. fine rich Browning reading. You can't think how like me
