

Paul de Lászlo
3 Barby Road
Tugby Angleterre.

It is awfully hot here - such lovely weather! But the country is is crying out for rain - I shall be here till the 20th

U.S.A. Boston, Mass.

Daddy's address from the 16th till 11th Aug:
Villa Jarmi, Avenida Gorman 807, Roslyn, Long Island, U.S.A.

8. July 1921

Tere. la. Madame
Orue.

Dear + love
Mum.

Pauly, my dearest boy. When I came to 12 O'Clock lunch yesterday, I saw your letter on the table! at first I thought it was Henry's writing (without my specs, I suppose). Indeed I was glad to hear from you, for do you 'realize this' that since I've been here, this letter of yours was the first to reach me from Tugby ---! So I had nice little excitement for myself at my small table, where I sit alone, since dear Aunt Ebe's left, in reading your nice long letter. I am v. excited to hear the result of the music competition! This is the day -- I hope all goes well -- that the yes, go in for you C. Confirmation for you C. Confirmation

for you C. Confirmation
for you C. Confirmation

the fiddle won't put you out, & that you won't put him out - I do hope you practised it slowly! The best safe.

Guard in view of a musical excitement.
Well, I am curious to hear results of today.

Good news from Henry - he is working v.
hard & has met the Schmüders at Baden-Baden. He finds it lonely in Heidelberg.
He & Sander will meet after his trip to Switzerland & come home together.

I try to practise here every day.
Aunt Ther's went home on Tuesday &
she & Aunt G. go to 3 F.J. today to stay
a week -

I see I made a mistake about money
I sent you, but as you say the twice given tip can count on to the 'hol. allowance',
I expect it was quite acceptable comparatively by mistake!

Your 'incidentals' are always full of little money settlements! as 'incidentally'! The present request of £3 to be forwarded + on to this 5/- for the H.M.'s present - If you each give a subs: of 5/- the total amounts to £3.10. You say £3.5. But I suppose
I'm right in thinking you both subscribe?

Preparations for next term, when five envelopes for letters to Mrs K.